

Terms of Use – Website of The Jerusalem Foundation (R. A.)

The Jerusalem Foundation (Registered Israeli Amuta) (the “Foundation”) offers the information on this website (the “Website” and the “Service”) subject to the following terms. The term “User” herein implies any person contacting or connecting with the Website.

1. The Website is available to the User AS IS, without adaptation to the individual needs of each User, potential and/or actual, and subject to the terms set forth below; The use of the Website is the sole responsibility of the User, and constitutes the User’s agreement that he/she and/or anyone on his/her behalf has no, nor will have, any contention, demand and/or claim, directly or indirectly, against the Website and/or its operators and/or The Foundation and/or anyone on its behalf.
2. No link to the Website (except the home page) is to be created from any other website without The Foundation’s prior written permission, and in any event, The Foundation will bear no responsibility regarding other websites containing a link to the Website.
3. The copyrights and intellectual property rights on the Website and the information appearing therein, as well as the designs, logo, trademarks and tradenames, interfaces, icons and any other component relating to the Website, are all under the sole and exclusive ownership of The Foundation, and are protected by property laws and copyrights. It is absolutely prohibited to copy, distribute, duplicate, publicize, sell, change and/or perform any other action on the Website and/or any other component included in the Website without The Foundation’s prior and written permission.
4. This website must not be used for any illegal purpose, or in any way that may damage, neutralize, overload or change the Website, or interfere with the use of any element on the Website.
5. The Foundation and/or web hosting service providers and/or website builders and/or operators and/or anyone acting on their behalf, cannot, and nor will they be responsible/liable for the server and/or all other means through which the Website and communication therewith operate, to be clean and clear of viruses and/or any other element that may cause harm to hardware, software and/or any other medium of the User and/or cause the User other damage of any type whatsoever.
6. The Foundation and/or web hosting service providers and/or website builders and/or operators and/or anyone acting on their behalf, cannot, and nor will they be responsible/liable for damage of any type whatsoever that may be caused to the User as a result of unavailability of the Website and/or due to delays, malfunctions, disconnections and/or interruptions in the use of the Website, due to technical malfunctions and/or failures, and/or human error.

7. The Foundation and/or web hosting service providers and/or website builders and/or operators and/or anyone acting on their behalf, cannot, and will not be responsible/liable for any distortion, interruption, interference, eavesdropping and/or any other unauthorized and/or illegal action regarding the Website, by the User and/or other Users of the Website, and/or any other element not under The Foundation's full control.
8. The links from the Website to other websites on the internet are included on the Website solely for the User's convenience, without The Foundation bearing any responsibility whatsoever for the linked websites, their content, integrity, availability, information security and communication therewith, and/or for any other intent and purpose in their regard. The use of any links and/or linked websites is the sole responsibility of the User.
9. The Foundation is entitled to include in the Website its own publicity/advertising and/or that of any third party (via links, banners, video and/or audio clips, pop-ups, etc.), advertising messages, Users' messages. Any message on behalf of any other person included and/or disseminated on the Website is the sole responsibility of the publisher of the message, and The Foundation will bear no responsibility/liability regarding the messages and/or relying on them in any way whatsoever.
10. The User has the option of donating to The Foundation via the Website. The Foundation undertakes to work, to the best of its ability, on its own or through others acting on its behalf, to protect the personal information provided during the donation process, and make no use of said information except for goals appearing below. It should be noted that The Foundation and/or anyone on its behalf, make use of all conventional means to ensure as far as possible the confidentiality of information in accordance with prevailing standards. It should be emphasized that the User can donate via telephone and/or in-person at The Foundation's offices.
11. We maintain the confidentiality of personal information related to you and we take reasonable measures to protect personal information related to you from loss, misuse and unauthorized access, disclosure, alteration and destruction. However, we do not guarantee that the Service is immune from cyberattacks, malicious activities, malfunctions, honest mistakes or other types of abuse and misuse of personal information.

12. In light of the aforesaid, the User agrees that if, despite the means of security taken by The Foundation and/or anyone on its behalf, it does not succeed in ensuring the confidentiality of information, the User will have no contention and/or claim and/or demand against the Foundation.
13. The Foundation is entitled to change at any time, and with no prior notice, the Website and its terms of use.
14. In any dispute stemming from use of this website, the legal authority will be that of the competent courts in Jerusalem.
15. For inquiries about these terms of use or any other issue regarding the Website or the Service, The Foundation can be contacted through the following channels: gideonb@jfjlm.org