

Looking to 2030 & Beyond

THE JERUSALEM FOUNDATION

הקרן לירושלים

The Jerusalem Foundation was established in 1966 by the legendary Mayor of Jerusalem, Teddy Kollek. Over the last five decades, and through more than 4000 initiatives, the Foundation has touched the lives of all of Jerusalem's more than 900,000 residents from all of the city's communities.

Today, the Jerusalem Foundation's mandate is as relevant as ever. The global pandemic, which resulted in a health and economic crisis, has impacted us all and has brought into sharper focus some of the existing issues in Jerusalem. The social fabric of the city has been tested and challenged, and the need for communal strength is more pressing than ever. Our plan for 2030 will close social gaps and support the most vulnerable populations in the city.

The pandemic impacted cultural life in Jerusalem. Going forward, we will continue to promote creative culture, supporting cultural institutions to innovate and adapt to the new reality. The future of Jerusalem will be determined by its young leaders and we continue to support the development of the next generation in the city.

We can take pride in the Foundation's half-century of achievement that has shaped the modern city's landscape even as we continue to adapt to the evolving needs of Jerusalem's diverse population and invest in its development.

VISION

The Foundation seeks to shape the future of Jerusalem by investing in and creating a flourishing city as a source of inspiration for its people and the world.

MISSION

To shape a modern, open and vibrant city by creating communal strength for all Jerusalem residents; to identify and respond to the needs of Jerusalem, enhancing Jerusalem's contribution to people of all faiths, sharing the city with our partners and friends worldwide and inspiring new generations to take part in Jerusalem's future.

COMMUNAL STRENGTH

The Jerusalem Foundation ensures that Jerusalem's diverse residents can continue to build a modern, open and vibrant city together. With a special focus on the social and communal needs of the city's most vulnerable populations, we close social gaps that have been exacerbated in recent times.

PROGRAMS

Springboard – improving the city of Jerusalem by taking a holistic approach to one neighborhood at a time in order to break the cycle of future poverty.

Neighborhood Improvement: Community Council Audit & Repurposing – reviewing and meeting the current needs of community centers previously established by the JF.

Workforce Development for Arab Women – a culturally-adapted program to address the poverty and unemployment rates among Arab women.

Cross-Communal Grantmaking – supporting shared living programs that strengthen the ability of Jerusalem's residents to live together by encouraging cross-cultural and cross-communal engagement.

Learning Better Together – projects which improve the level of education across the city and provide 21st century skills for underserved populations.

- Learning Together K-12 (for Jewish & Arab children) & the Jerusalem Foundation Learning Together Ambassadors
- Haredi STEM Education
- Al Mada Math & Science Teacher Training
- 21st Century Language Skills (English, Arabic & Hebrew)
- Improving School Infrastructure – labs and libraries

Yaelim at Ein Yael – the program uses nature therapy to work with at-risk youth who have exhausted all formal educational options.

Support for Holocaust Survivors - Café Europa acts as a resource center for the city's Holocaust survivors, providing them with the support they need, as well as a mobile service for the homebound.

CREATIVE CULTURE

The Jerusalem Foundation leverages the city's diversity and unique history to shape its future as a modern, thriving center of arts and culture. We support cultural institutions in their efforts to create innovative new models for culture and adapt to changing realities, breathing new life into Jerusalem.

PROGRAMS

Creative Culture Grantmaking – an annual call for proposals to support innovative and collaborative arts and culture initiatives, encouraging the vibrant mosaic of Jerusalem as a diverse, pluralistic city.

Emerging Contemporary Art Platforms – 'Hamiffal' and 'A Studio of Her Own' in west Jerusalem and the Paley Arts Center in east Jerusalem serve as incubators for young artists and develop and support the local art scene.

Student Culture Festival – a platform for Jerusalem's many higher arts institutions to be part of an annual city-wide student festival to showcase Jerusalem's creativity.

FUTURE LEADERSHIP

The Jerusalem Foundation focuses on developing leadership and excellence in the city through its involvement in community activism and investment in the next generation. By promoting young civil leadership with a long term commitment to the city, and guaranteeing that all communities have access to opportunities to excel, we safeguard the future of Jerusalem.

PROGRAMS

Jerusalem Institute for Policy Research - JIPR is the leading applied research institute in Israel for the study of Jerusalem.

Jerusalem Foundation Scholarship Fund - this major source of funding for higher education scholarships in Jerusalem is a partnership of the Municipality, the Mifal Hapayis lottery fund and the Jerusalem Foundation.

Future Leadership Grantmaking - grants that support projects developing young leaders all across Jerusalem.

The George Pinto Jerusalem Leadership Fellows Program ('Kayma') - a group of exceptional PhD students will become the next generation of young leadership in civil society with a long-term commitment to Jerusalem.

Youth Leaders - a program to develop leadership amongst the younger generations through community activism, youth movements & at risk youth organizations.
